

FEATURE POST

IP Osgoode’s Prof. Pina D’Agostino, Aviv Gaon and Ian Stedman Join York University’s Artificial Intelligence and Society Task Force

November 19, 2018 by IP Osgoode

IP Osgoode is proud to announce that its founder and director, Prof. Pina D’Agostino, along with Aviv Gaon and Ian Stedman, both of whom are PhD Candidates at Osgoode Hall Law School, are members of York University’s Artificial Intelligence and Society Task Force. Prof. D’Agostino, Aviv and Ian are leading scholars in AI and the law.

READ MORE

LATEST POSTS

Congratulations to Prof. David Vaver C.M., F.R.S.C. on being inducted to the fellowship of the Royal Society of Canada!

November 19, 2018 by IP Osgoode

IP Osgoode is proud to announce that our very own Prof. David Vaver C.M., F.R.S.C. was inducted to the fellowship of the Royal Society of Canada. The induction ceremony was recently held in Halifax, Nova Scotia.

READ MORE

Moral Ethics of Artificial Intelligence Decision-Making – Who Should be Harmed and Who is Held Responsible?

November 16, 2018 by Rui Shen

As autonomous vehicles begin their test runs and potential commercial debuts, new liability and ethical questions arise. Unlike other computer algorithms which are already available to the public, a fully automated car divorces the authority of the device from the driver, instead vesting all power and decision-making into the car and its software.

Rui Shen is an IPilogue Editor and a JD Candidate at Osgoode Hall Law School.

READ MORE

Don’t Tread on Me (or My ISP): Rogers v Voltage Pictures

November 16, 2018 by Peter Werhun

I’m sure you’ve never accessed material online without proper permissions from the copyright holder, but, given the number of them that go out, chances are you or someone you know (or their spam folder) has received an email along the following lines:

Peter Werhun is an IPilogue Editor and a JD Candidate at Osgoode Hall Law School.

READ MORE

The Tech Law Ultimatum: Consent or Exile?

November 16, 2018 by Summer Lewis

Living in the twenty-first century comes with the need to manage expectations. While we live in a modern age with a variety of technological advancements, we may not be as innovative as we previously imagined. After decades of television shows like The Jetsons, some may even be inclined to ask, “Where’s my jetpack?” Professor Daithi Mac Sithigh, during his Harry W. Arthurs Fellowship at Osgoode Hall Law School this fall term, recently spoke about the challenging relationship between technological innovation and the law.

Summer Lewis is an IPilogue Editor and a JD Candidate at Osgoode Hall Law School.

READ MORE

The Confusing Side of Offensive Marks: Matal v Tam’s Implications

November 16, 2018 by Saba Samanian

The Supreme Court of the United States’ decision in the 2017 case of Matal v Tam (“Matal”) has important implications for trademark law inside and outside of the United States.” In ruling that the Lanham Act’s “non-disparagement” provision violated the First Amendment, the Court affirmed the decision of the Court of Appeal for the Federal Circuit.

Saba Samanian is an IPilogue Editor and a JD Candidate at Osgoode Hall Law School.

READ MORE

Events

November 27, 2018

Introduction to Traditional Knowledge and Traditional Cultural Expressions

Visit the IPIC webinar website for more information.

February 11, 2019

SAVE THE DATE!

IP Osgoode and the CIPO will be holding a symposium for women entrepreneurs. More details to come.

IP Picks of the Week

The Competition Bureau has opened public consultations until Dec 31, 2018 on the latest version of the Intellectual Property Enforcement Guidelines.

A study published by the European Patent Office (EPO) finds the number of European patent applications related to automated driving has grown 20 times faster than other technologies in recent years.

CRTC invites comments on the creation of a mandatory code of conduct for ISPs. Submission deadline is December 19, 2018.

Broadcasting and Telecommunications Legislative Review Panel consultation: ‘Responding to the New Environment: A Call for Comments’ written submission deadline is November 30, 2018.

Share this email:

Manage your preferences | Opt out using TrueRemove™
Got this as a forward? Sign up to receive our future emails.

View this email online.

4700 Keele St.
Toronto, Ontario | M3J 1P3 CA

This email was sent to .
To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.

